

This is an example of a scavenger hunt that is used for a program that sends their PL2 residents to Cape May, NJ for a retreat. Divide the residents into 4 -5 people / group , provide them with a camera and this list. Give them several hours to complete as many tasks as possible.

When the teams arrive back at the agreed upon destination, the following tasks must be completed.

1. Make a collage on the poster board provided to you. Include all pictures (labeled) and any other items collected. Use any craft items available. Tally your points for each picture.
2. Create a team name and a logo – both should be drawn or listed on your poster board.
3. While creating your masterpiece talk about your team: what worked and what did not work. Were there any conflicts? Who was the leader, the follower?

Each team presents their collage to the group and talks about what they learned about group dynamics and group function during the process. The entire group votes for the most creative, bizarre and day's best photo. The group with the most points gets the prize.

Cape May Candid Camera Caper

Your group has been given a camera with twenty instant print pictures. Your goal, should you wish to accept this mission, is to collect as many of the suggested photos as possible in the time allotted. Follow the rules listed below and return with the photos in hand. The team with the most points wins a prize especially selected for them.

Rules:

The group must stay together at all times.

The group must only use the film and camera provided.

The group should not break any laws, act in an unsafe manner or hinder the enjoyment of others in the area.

Points:

10 points each for one original photo of any of the following:

1. A storefront sign that has a fruit in the name.
2. A Bed and Breakfast named after a bird.
3. A member of your group holding a real horse shoe crab.
4. A person swimming in the ocean in their bathing suit.
5. An interesting license plate.
6. The Mayor of Cape May.
7. Someone parasailing.
8. Someone throwing a frisbee.
9. A team member trying on clothes in a clothing store.
10. A police car and the officer and occupants of the car.
11. Uncle Bill and his friends.
12. Someone on the golf course teeing off.
13. A person making candy.
14. A gazebo.
15. A very large Gingerbread House.
16. A very old / antique car and it's occupants.
17. The Cape May Point Light House.
18. Someone being buried in the sand.
19. The Cape May Librarian.
20. An interesting example of Victorian architecture.
21. An interesting outfit worn by a stranger.
22. The Cape May Ferry. (the real thing!)
23. Someone eating an ice cream sundae.

Bonus Points:

Two additional points for each group member present in each photo.

Five additional points for each stranger posing in each photo.

Five additional points for the autograph of each stranger in the photo.

Twenty additional points for the photo voted:

The day's best photo.

The most bizarre photo.

The most creative group photo.