NEONATOLOGY FELLOWSHIP POSITIONS:

The State University of New York Downstate Medical Center and the Kings County Medical Center in Brooklyn New York City have a newly accredited training program in Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine. A number of training and fellowship positions are available.

- Two Neonatal Perinatal Fellowship positions
  - Starting July 1, 2013. Applicants must have completed 3 years of Pediatric Residency training by June 30, 2013. These positions are offered outside of the National Residency Matching Program (NRMP).

- Two Neonatal Perinatal Fellowship positions
  - Starting July 1, 2014. Applicants must have completed 3 years of Pediatric Residency training by June 30, 2014. These positions will be filled through the NRMP.

- One NIH funded research fellowship in Neonatal Pharmacology, directed to an in depth training in Translational and Clinical Neonatal and Developmental Pharmacology. Position is available to start July 1st, 2013 for a period of one year or more (maximum 3 years) as needed. Enrollment in the graduate program (Masters or PhD in Pharmacology) will be available. Applicants must have a PhD, a PharmD or an MD.

The State University of New York Downstate Medical Center and its affiliated institutions is the only academic center in Brooklyn New York. Together, they have 4,000 very high risk deliveries per year with 1,300 admissions to the NICU. With 13 full time neonatal faculty, there is a very active teaching and clinical and translational research programs and it is one of the 4 NIH centers for Pediatric and Developmental Pharmacology Research.

Please send your Curriculum Vitae and Contact information by email or contact:

J. V. Aranda, MD, PhD, FRCPC  (Fellowship Program Director)
Director of Neonatology and the NIH New York Pediatric Developmental Pharmacology Research Consortium
State University of New York Downstate Medical Center
450 Clarkson Avenue, Box 49
Brooklyn New York 11203

Telephone: 718 270 1912
Mobile: 347 831 3482
Email: jaranda@downstate.edu