Global Health PEG Priorities (2016-2017)

Michael Pitt, MD and Nicole St. Clair, MD, Co-Leaders

Goal 1: Disseminate Resources

- 🌐 Disseminate best practices for preparation for global child health electives
- 🌐 Maintain and disseminate starter resources for pediatric global health training programs
- 🌐 Optimize the APPD GH PEG website (appdgh.wordpress.com)
- 🌐 Host an annual Global Health Educator Abstract & Mini-Poster Symposium to promote scholarly collaboration among members

Goal 2: Maintain a Pulse Check on GH Education

- 🌐 Maintain annual updates to the Global Health Educators Database
- 🌐 Define global health track core components and best practices (expert consensus guidelines)
- 🌐 Strengthen collaboration with the ABP & AAP

Under-Represented Minorities in Graduate Medical Education

Aisha Barber Davis, MD and Patricia Poitevien, MD, MSc ,Co-Leaders

Founded in Spring 2015 to:

1. Describe the state of underrepresented minorities (URM) in pediatric GME
2. Develop an increased understanding of the challenges of recruitment and mentorship of URM house staff
3. Design tools for program directors to support diversity at their programs
4. Catalog pediatric specific curricula that address health care disparities, cultural competency and implicit bias in medical education

Progress 2015-16:

1. Created a Pediatric Program Director Diversity Assessment Survey
2. Partnered with The National Initiative on Gender, Culture and Leadership in Medicine to examine data on URM residents' perceptions of the clinical learning environment.
3. Designed workshops on Diversity and Inclusion in Academic Medicine and on Implicit Bias in Academic Medicine for APPD and PEEAC

APPD Research Award

The Association of Pediatric Program Directors Research Award is awarded annually for outstanding educational research presented by an APPD member during the national APPD spring meeting. Winning candidates are selected based on the quality of work presented in the abstract.

Eligibility Criteria:

One of the authors must be a member of the APPD.

First-author abstract must be accepted for presentation at the APPD Spring Meeting to be considered.

The first-author must present the abstract at the APPD Spring Meeting unless there are extenuating circumstances

APPD Trainee Research Award

The Association of Pediatric Program Directors Trainee Research Award is awarded annually for outstanding educational research presented by a trainee (medical student, resident, chief resident or fellow) during the national APPD Spring Meeting. This award is designed to encourage pediatricians in training to pursue careers in medical education. Winning candidates are selected based on the quality of work presented in the abstract.

Eligibility Criteria:

Trainee (medical student, resident, chief resident or fellow) must submit and present the abstract prior to the completion of training (residency, chief residency, or fellowship). Work completed during training but submitted after training is completed will not qualify for this award.

The first-author must be identified as a trainee by checking the “first-author is trainee” box in the APPD abstract submission program.

The APPD Trainee Research Award online application must be completed.

The Research must be sponsored by an APPD member, as indicated in the submission process. The role of the trainee as a key member of the team who authors the research must be verified by the APPD member who is the sponsor.

The Abstract and supplemental materials (APPD Trainee Research Award application and Letter of Support) must be received by the APPD abstract submission deadline.

The trainee’s abstract must be accepted for presentation at the APPD Spring Meeting to be considered.

The trainee must present the abstract at the APPD Spring Meeting.
