BMC is the largest safety-net hospital in New England and has a long-standing commitment to providing accessible, community-oriented health services to all in need regardless of their status or ability to pay.

The Developmental and Behavioral Pediatrics Fellowship at the University of Washington/Seattle Children's Hospital is committed to fostering an inclusive environment that values underrepresented minorities in medicine and individuals with unique experiences. We celebrate people from various ethnic and cultural backgrounds, national origin, language, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, physical disability, and other attributes.

We acknowledge we are living and working on the unceded traditional land of the first people of Seattle, the Coast Salish people. This land, which touches the shared waters of all tribes and bands, is within the Suquamish, Tulalip, Duwamish, and Muckleshoot Nations. These tribes continue to live and thrive here, including among patients and families we serve. We are grateful to them.

Mission Statement

To improve the wellbeing of children with developmental and behavioral disabilities, their families and communities, we train developmental and behavioral pediatricians in an inclusive environment with diverse clinical and academic experiences. Our program's training is built upon the following foundational commitments:

- To value and focus on the importance of diverse interdisciplinary collaboration in caring for children with developmental and behavioral disabilities
- To foster a learning environment for our fellows that promotes scientific inquiry, cultural humility, and both personal and professional well-being
- To provide flexible training and mentorship that develops excellent independent subspecialty physicians and researchers who are life-long learners, educators, and advocates

MISSION

The Tufts interprofessional training program nurtures and educates future leaders in pediatric neurodevelopmental care to be compassionate, knowledgeable, and skillful clinicians, advocates, and scholars.

- We value the uniqueness and diversity of each trainee's life experience.
- We support and empower trainees to accomplish their professional development and career goals through individual mentorship, bidirectional teaching, and collaborative problem solving in an interprofessional setting.
- We mentor trainees to identify inequities and impact systems of care to improve access and promote inclusivity at an individual and policy level.
